

Security is Integral

At GMS, Security is Integral. We believe that every business should be able to say the same. So, we combine best of breed technologies from the world's best ICT, security and networking companies to put security where your business needs it most – throughout your business.

An independent IT and security solutions provider, GMS has a reputation for being a trend-spotter, being the first to offer Ironport and ArrayNetwork products in Singapore; as well as industry leading technologies from Alcatel, Juniper, Sun and Cisco to name a few.

With a regional client base ranging from financial institutions, retailers and manufacturers to telecom companies and Internet Service Providers, GMS is also regarded for its "industrial strength" solutions; designing, building, delivering and maintaining individual solutions that bring people, processes and technology together.

In today's business, the threat to productivity and corporate reputation resulting from reduced downtimes associated with internet security threats means that security is now much more than a line of defense. Security makes business happen.

When your staff can send and receive information safely and quickly they become more productive. When customers can complete online transactions securely they become loyal and more valuable. When your IT team has time to proactively mitigate risk your resources can be better utilised. From incoming emails to outbound mail compliance, anti-spam to bounce verification, protecting business information, transactions and customer data – a GMS security solution will help you to make your business more productive, more effective and more efficient.

GMS was established in Singapore in 1999 and operates across the region including in Malaysia, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Thailand and the Philippines.
